If you have any issues deleting your OkCupid account, please let us know in the comment box. I signed up for an OKCupid account earlier this year when I was in a bad place with a friend recommending it to me. I used a fake email account and just stayed signed in for more than a month. Later on, I deleted the cookies I think when cleaning my computer. Now I would like to delete the account, but can't access it. I have created a new account with all the same information about it and sent a request to help them delete the old one. I sent a picture of me in the assist which is clearly taken at the same time/place as my original profile picture supports my claim that I am the same person. There was no answer. Any tips? I can't blame anyone for not believing me, because the story is unusual, but I flu the idea that ten years from now written information by me in a vulnerable state will be online for review. Page 2 3 comments 🗨️ We hope you'll leave because you've met an awisome person! If not, it's a bummer. Either way, we'll miss you. Here's how to do the paper: On the website: You can disable or delete your account from your settings page where it says Need a Break? on the bottom of the page. On the app, tap on your profile page, then on Account Settings, and then on disable your account. Follow the prompt in there. Remember well deleted is permanent, so if you think you'll want to come back to us in there select Disable. Disabling your account shows it as deleted from anyone who looks for it, but it leaves you the option to re-open your profile in the future if you want. If you delete your account, you can use the same email address for another account in the future. If you have trouble deleting or disabling your account and need help, let us know – there is a link to contact us at the bottom of this page. QUESTION: What happens to my paid subscription if I disable/delete my account? If you pay for your subscription with Credit or Credit Card and disable your account, we will automatically ask all bills for you while your account is disabled. However, if you re-enable your profile after your billing expiration date you will be prompted to pay for your subscription again, as your expiration date has passed. If you delete your account, we will permanently cancel your subscription. If your subscription is via iTunes or Google Play, these services don't know when your account on OkCupid is disabled, re-enabled, or even deleted, so they don't stop your subscription and you continue getting tired. If you want to stop billing via iTunes or Google Play, you'll need to cancel your subscription from them separately from closing your OkCupid account. For more information check out our Help page on canceled subscribers. If you're deleting your account because you met someone: 🎉🎉🎉 Hooray! 🎉🎉🎉 this is our favorite thing to hear. OK! So what happens next? 1. If you would like to close your account (or close your account simultaneously, you cut, you), you can do so on the website settings page, or on the app by typing on Profile, then on Account Settings, then on Disable your account. Follow the prompts to disable temporarily or permanently delete your account. When you follow the prompt, you'll be able to tell us who you've met, so we can remind how our matching system clothing is. 🙏1.5. But wait! If you would like to keep a memory of your conversation on OkCupid, make sure that you copy these messages before you close your account. If you end up asking us for copies later, it would end up being a whole thing, and we might even have to say No, so make sure you have to grab them now. Your scrapbook will thank you. 2. If you would like to let us know your story, we would love to hear it! Please reach us on our Instagram and Twitter account, or you can submit a success story here. We are so happy to hear you've found each other. ❤️💞💞💞💞💞 If you still need help, you can email a friendly humane. Human.
